Ida April 22 SPONSOR EVENT

In the 1960s Polish People's Republic, Anna, a young novice nun raised by a convent, is told by her prioress that before she takes her vows she must visit her aunt, Wanda Gruz, who is her only surviving relative. Anna travels to visit her aunt Wanda, a hard-drinking, sexually promiscuous judge who reveals Anna's actual name is Ida and that Ida's parents had been murdered late in the German occupation of Poland during World War II. THIS FILM HAS WON NUMEROUS FOREIGN FILM AWARDS AND IS UP FOR AN OSCAR. Polish with English subtitles; 82 minutes.

Gett: The Trial of Viviane Amsalem April 29

An Israeli woman (Ronit Elkabetz) fights for three years to obtain a divorce from her devout husband (Simon Abkarian), who refuses to grant his permission to dissolve the marriage. Hebrew, French and Arabic with English subtitles; 1 hr. 55 min.

Mr. Kaplan May 6

After fleeing Europe for Uruguay during WWII, Jacob Kaplan built a quiet life. Now 76, he begins to question his worth. After learning of a mysterious German prowling the shores of a nearby beach, he becomes convinced that he's found a Nazi in hiding and plans to expose him. Expertly distilling a potent mixture of emotional depth and deadpan comedy, Mr. Kaplan is a vivacious meditation on family, aging, and the drive for significance. Spanish, English subtitles; 98 minutes.

The Art Dealer May 13

This film follows a Jewish woman who embarks on a journey to recover family paintings that were stolen by Nazis. During her investigation, she discovers some family secrets are best kept hidden. French, English subtitles; 95 minutes.

The Muses of Isaac Bashevis Singer May 20

The elfin-looking, wizened Singer was a leading figure in the Yiddish literary movement and Nobel prize winner. He was also an unlikely ladies man, but that's exactly what he was. His appreciation for women knew no bounds, and he wasn't shy about admitting it. To make the point, the documentary includes a clip from The Dick Cavett Show in which Singer admits to having a problem with one of the Ten Commandments, specifically the one prohibiting adultery. English, Hebrew, and Yiddish with English subtitles; 72 minutes.

The Green Prince May 27

The son of a founding leader in the Palestinian organization, Hamas, becomes a spy for the Israelis. English; 99 minutes.

What We've Done, What's to Come

by Co-Directors Paula Israel
CJCRSDir2@gmail.com;
423-802-8434 and Jackie
Rosenfeld; CJCRSDir@gmail.
com; 423-762-0104

On the first weekend in February, Hadassah members Sandy Tabakin and Millie Lander visited CJCRS to talk about the Jewish National Fund (JNF). They offered tree and water certificates, which they explained can be framed and given for birthdays, thank you's, appreciation gifts, etc. Concurrently, all classes made homemade Chia pets with biodegradable cups, soil, and grass seed. We usually plant parsley seeds for upcoming Passover, but we used grass seed, mesh, and googly eyes this time around. You can see them at right. Aren't they cute?

On the second weekend in February, ISJL Fellow Noah Westreich visited Chattanooga. Friday night he attended Shabbat services and a Tu b'Shevat seder at Mizpah Congregation. He led a wonderfully creative, hands-on program for the children. After an interesting discussion about the importance of trees, Noah read "The Giving Tree" to the kids. After discussing the book, children colored their own Tu b'Shevat trees. Everyone had a great time!

On Saturday morning, Noah read Torah at B'nai Zion Congregation during Shabbat morning services. After a Shabbat nap, he enjoyed a beautiful visit to Coolidge Park. He commented on the vitality of our community and the high number of Frisbee players in the park.

Saturday night, Noah joined a few CJCRS board members and others for dinner at 212 Market. It was wonderful to get to know more about Noah's background and new projects in the works by ISJL. Noah also had the opportunity to see downtown Chattanooga nightlife with members of the Jewish Federation's Young Leadership group and our shlicha, Noa Hadad.

Sunday morning was very busy at CJCRS! After visiting our kindergarten/first grade class, Noah led the entire school in a sports-themed Tefillah (prayer) program. Tefillah also included singing, games, and personal reflection. From youngest children to oldest teens, Noah was able to keep the entire group engaged and active.

After school ended, Noah led the teachers through a training program and discussion about how to teach Judaism to students of different ages and grade levels. The weekend flew by and Sunday afternoon we said goodbye to our friend and ISJL fellow, Noah Westreich.

In other news, February 22nd was the deadline to turn in orders for Passover candy. This year's sale was also accompanied by a brochure with modestly priced home goods. Product distribution will be made well before Pesach which begins Friday evening, April 3rd.

Also coming up: field trip for students grades 4-8 to Whitwell Middle School to see the rail car at the Paperclip Museum. Parents will transport (carpooling suggested).

Closer to the end of the school year, we will ask that you pre-register your children online for the upcoming 2015-2016 school year, which will be held at Mizpah Congregation, 923 McCallie Avenue. Look for the school calendar in the June Shofar.

Online registration information should also be available by then, too. Please note that the purpose of pre-registration is to account for shifting class sizes, teacher placements, teachers' aides openings, etc., as well as how many textbooks to order for each class. Think of it as planning an elaborate dinner--we can hardly prepare if we aren't sure how many people will be attending. It is vital to our planning that you help us by pre-registering. Please know that tuition is not due until the start of classes.

Remaining school sessions for the year:
March 1st, 8th, 15th, 22nd.
No class March 29th (spring break)
No classes in April

"GETTING TO KNOW WELL-KNOWN JEWS"

TUESDAY MORNING LEARNING AT MIZPAH

What do Judah Halevi, Kivie Kaplan, Nancy Brinker, Susanna of the Apocrypha and Al Jolson have in common? They are among the well-known (and lesser known) Jews whose significant contributions to culture, social progress and/or Jewish history are explored and discussed during Mizpah's Tuesday Morning Learning Sessions. Please join us from 7:30 to 8:30 am each week in the library. There is no charge, all are welcome and the morning coffee is always fresh!

MIZPAH ACADEMY AND OUR HEBREW LANGUAGE
According to the great 20th century American Jewish Historian Jacob Rader Marcus, following the American War of Independence those among the new country's leadership suggested that Hebrew serve as America's first language! Though this initiative did not come to pass, it nevertheless points to the reverence with which Hebrew continues to be held - as the language of our Bible and the people who reside in Israel - the Jewish homeland. At Mizpah Academy, our congregation's mid-week Hebrew Language Learning Program, we cultivate an understanding and appreciation for this "first language of the Jewish people." Our classes, each of which utilize the Reform Movement's cutting-edge Mitkadem ["Progressive"] curriculum, take place each Wednesday from 4:30 to 6:00pm. Please contact Rabbi Bill S. Tepper for further information.

SUMMER AT CAMP COLEMAN: LET'S MAKE IT HAPPEN THIS YEAR!

Camp Coleman is led by a highly-experienced administration, with skilled and caring counselors to guide campers, and complemented each summer by specialist staff from Israel and rabbis representing Reform Congregations of the Southeast. The Camp Coleman experience does so much to enhance our children's Jewish identities and self-esteem. Please peruse the Camp Coleman website (coleman.urj-camps.org), and/or arrange to speak, as soon as possible, with Rabbi Bill S. Tepper. Through a generous bequest from the estate of our Past-President, the late Hal Schwartz, and his wife Elwynn, Mizpah is happy to announce the availability of live streaming and recording of all regularly-held sanctuary services and events, as well as special events and services. We are still in the testing stage and developing policies, procedures and instructions for use and access. Stay tuned for more details.

VISIT MIZPAH'S GARDEN OF LIFE

We've breathed "new life" into the Garden of Life thanks to the leadership of Garden Committee Co-chairs, Ruth Longway and Betsy Temple, the vision and energy of Physical Properties Chair Gary Chazen and the hard work of our custodial/grounds staff, Steve Smith and Steve Myres. The gazebo is done, including a Magen David—Shield of David—on the top, as are the new fence and new entry gates. Plans are in the works for further updates. Contact the Temple office if you'd like to help. And visit soon.

MIZPAH BOOK CLUB SELECTION: The Lemon Tree by Sandy Tolan

March 22nd at 10:30 am

The Lemon Tree is a reminder of all that is at stake, and all that is still possible in the Middle East. It follows the journey of three young Arab men, cousins, after the 1967 Six-Day War, on a pilgrimage to their childhood homes in a town that became part of Jewish Israel. One meets a young woman and, with a simple act of faith, begins a 40-year dialogue that represents the region's hope for peace and self-determination. For further details and to r.s.v.p if you'd like to attend, email Jan Jacobs at Janice5@aol.com. The meeting takes place at Jan's house, Sunday, March 22nd at 10:30 a.m. for a pot luck brunch and discussion.

CHABAD OF CHATTANOOGA

Israel Goy, the Holy One

From the local Chabad website

In the city of Krakow, Poland, there lived a rich Jew by the name of Israel who was famous for his stinginess. His utter heartlessness outraged and mystified the Jews of Krakow. How could a Jew be so indifferent to the needs of his brothers and sisters? People started referring to the rich miser as "Israel Goy," (Israel the foreign one) and the epithet stuck.

Years passed, when one day, the Krakow burial society received a summons to Israel's home.

"I feel that my days are numbered," he told them, "All my funeral arrangements are prearranged. There is just one thing remaining: I need to purchase a plot for my grave."

They thought this was their opportunity to collect the debt owed by Israel to the community.

"As you know," they said to him, "Each plot is priced according to the individual's ability, and the money is used for charitable purposes. You are a wealthy man, and - if you will excuse our bluntness - you have not been very forthcoming in sharing the burdens of the community, we think it appropriate to charge you 1000 gulden!"

The rich man calmly replied: "For my deeds I shall be judged in the heavenly court. It is not for you to judge me. I had planned to pay 100 guldens for my plot, not a penny more. I'm not asking for any special location or a fancy gravestone. I have just one request: on my gravestone, should be inscribed 'Here lies Israel Goy.'"

The members of the society exchanged glances: was the old man out of his mind? They wondered and left his house bewildered.

Israel's funeral was a sorry affair. Rumor had it that even at death's door, he refused to share his blessings with the needy. It was even difficult to scrape together the needed quorum of ten to conduct a proper Jewish burial. He was buried off to a side of the cemetery, no eulogies were held, for what could be said of such a man?

The following Thursday evening, there was a knock on the door of the chief rabbi of Krakow, the famed Rabbi Yomtov Lipman Heller (1579–1654). There stood a man who explained that he had nothing with which to purchase wine, candles, challah and food for Shabbat. The rabbi gave him a few coins from his private charity fund and wished him a "Good Shabbat."

A few minutes later there was another knock on the door, and a second petitioner followed. Within the hour, no fewer than twenty families came to ask for the rabbi's aid to meet their Shabbat expenses. The rabbi was mystified; nothing like this had happened before.

Rabbi Heller called an emergency meeting of the trustees of the community's charity funds. They, too, had been deluged with hundreds of requests for aid in the last few hours. The communal coffers had been virtually emptied!

As if on cue, there was another knock on the door. "Tell me," asked the rabbi after handing a few coins to the latest petitioner, "how did you manage until now? What did you do last week?"

"We bought on credit at the grocer's," replied the pauper. "Whenever we needed food and did not have money with which to pay, the merchant wrote it down in his ledger. He didn't even bother us about payment. But now he says that that arrangement is over."

Investigation revealed that hundreds of families in Krakow had subsisted this way—up to now. For some reason, none of the grocers, fishmongers and butchers were willing to extend credit any longer to the town's poor.

At first no merchant would explain to the Rabbi what was going on. However after much persuasion the truth came out. For years, each week the town's merchants would present the bills of credit offered to the poor families of town to Israel, and he would pay in full. His only condition was that no one should know from where this help came. "If word got out, you will not see another penny from me," he warned.

The Rabbi was shattered. Such a special person had lived in their midst, and in their haste to judge him, they insulted him and reviled him.

The rabbi announced a public fast day. All adults will neither eat nor drink from morning to evening, and all will gather at the cemetery to beg forgiveness from the deceased.

The rabbi himself eulogized Israel. "You," he cried, "fulfilled the mitzvah of tzedakah (charity) in its most perfect form—without taking any credit for the deed, and ensuring that no recipient of your generosity should ever stand ashamed before his benefactor or feel indebted to him."

Rabbi Heller requested to be buried right next to this holy man. And so it is that the inscription on the gravestone adjoining the famed Rabbi in the old Jewish cemetery of Krakow reads: "Here lies Israel Goy Kadosh." (here lies Israel Goy the holy one).
