

Jewish Federation[®]
OF GREATER CHATTANOOGA

P.O. Box 8947
Chattanooga, TN 37414

Change Service Requested

THE STRENGTH OF A PEOPLE.
THE POWER OF COMMUNITY.

Nonprofit Org.
U.S. Postage
PAID
Permit No. 63
Chattanooga, TN

NEWS OF THE JEWISH COMMUNITY OF GREATER CHATTANOOGA

THE SHOEFAR

A Publication of the Jewish Federation of Greater Chattanooga

Volume 29 Number 9 May 2014

Israeli Happy Hour

Thursday, May 1 @ Flying Squirrel
(55 Johnson Street)
5:30 p.m. drinks and food
6:30 p.m. live music featuring
Israeli a capella singer Galit Mor
&
Guitarist Eitan Akman

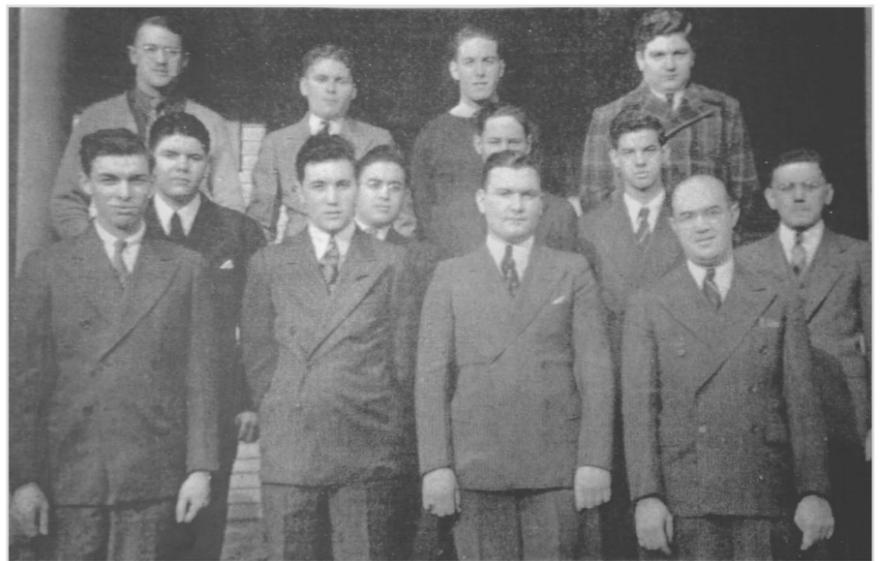

NO COVER!

Come Celebrate!

Yom HaZikaron and Yom Ha'Atzmaut

see page 4 for details

Kitchen Tables: Memories of Growing Up Jewish in Chattanooga
Community reception May 15 @ 5:30 p.m.
(exhibit dates May 15-July 18)

Aleph Bet Graduation

May 29

4 p.m

IN THIS ISSUE

Federation News	Page 2	Newcomers.....	Page 11
Federation Programs.....	Pages 3-7	Tributes	Page 11
Federation Social Services ..	Page 6	Hadassah News.....	Page 15
Aleph Bet.....	Page 7	B'nai Zion News.....	Page 16
CJCRS.....	Page 8	Mizpah News.....	Page 17
Federation Shlichah.....	Page 9	Chabad News.....	Page 18
Young Leadership.....	Page 9	Federation Bulletin Board..	Page 19
Community Voices	Pages 10-14	Federation Calendar.....	Page 20
Mazel Tovs/Condolences ...	Page 11

Jewish Federation
of Greater Chattanooga

www.jewishchattanooga.com

FEDERATION NEWS

What It Means to be ONE

by Warren Dropkin
Federation Board Chair
boardchair@jewishchattanooga.com

This month I want to highlight a couple of programs that truly exemplify the “We Are One” theme that I’ve talked about so much: the Yom HaShoah commemoration and our Israel Day celebration.

On Sunday, April 27, the community came together for our annual Yom HaShoah commemoration. There was a reading of names, candle lighting, and music. Dr. John Steinberg, Holocaust Educator and Chair of the Department of History and Philosophy at Austin Peay State University, spoke. The event was well-attended and the sense of community was deep and palpable.

Coming up May 4th we will celebrate Yom HaZikaron (the Israeli version of our Memorial Day) and Yom Ha’Atzmaut (Israeli Independence Day). As a part of our annual celebration of Israel, we will be adding a unique Israeli flavor to the festivities. We will begin our afternoon with a 4:00 p.m. Commemoration and Torch Lighting and then transition into our Yom Ha’Atzmaut program – an Israeli style celebration filled with arts and crafts, cooking, face painting, and even a rousing game of “Jewpardy,” all in honor of Israel’s 66th birthday.

What makes these events unique is the input, cooperation and collaboration that goes into them. Our rabbis play a large role in helping create—and participating in—a meaningful Yom HaShoah program.

Best Practices for Worst Case Scenarios

by Michael Dzik
Federation Executive Director
mdzik@jewishchattanooga.com

Although not the most glamorous of committees, the Federation’s Community Relations Committee (CRC) is one of the more important ones. Many of you may not have even heard of it. Let me explain.

The CRC has a multitude of responsibilities. It works to ensure the separation of Church and State, usually here within our public schools. It provides our local school administrations (public and private) with yearly Jewish calendars and informs schools of when Jewish students may be missing classes for holidays. The CRC also meets with the Hamilton County Superintendent several times a year to keep the lines of communication open and to head off any possible problems. Although I always encourage parents to work with their child’s teacher and school principal first, I am always available to reach out to the superintendent as necessary.

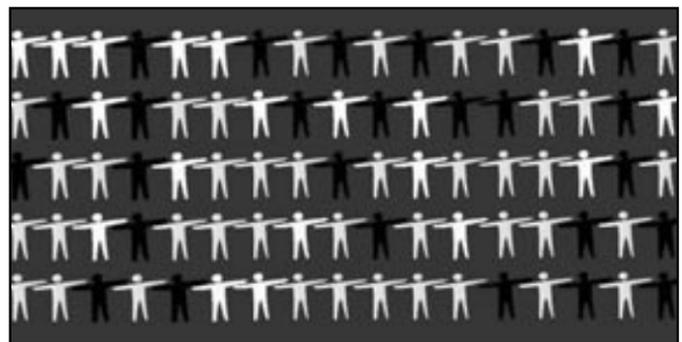

Another job of the CRC is to monitor (and sometimes respond to) articles in the newspaper. On rare occasions it might also be called on to respond to other forms of news media. We evaluate these on an article by article basis, taking into consideration both the subject matter and the author. In general the CRC has chosen not to respond to extremist rants or views. On occasion we have taken a proactive approach to what we believe is an impending extremist threat, by writing letters or op-ed articles to Similarly, community leaders at each of the congregations and organizations have taken an active role in assisting the Federation with this year’s Israel Day celebration. It’s a show of perfect “We Are Oneness”: community leaders and volunteers coming together to plan and implement, followed by the community at large coming together to celebrate.

Chattanooga is home to an amazing Jewish community—one that works together as one to ensure we remain strong and united.

This month I want to feature another outstanding volunteer. Sanford Winer has chaired the Jewish Film Series in Chattanooga since its inception seven years ago. He puts untold hours into selecting the films, securing corporate sponsors, and garnering community support. Sanford makes sure we are treated to only the best quality films, the best food, and, this year, the best quality chairs! That’s right: new, comfortable chairs were recently purchased for the Jewish Cultural Center thanks in no small part to Sanford. Thank you, Sanford, for your incredible work with the Film Series, and for your overall dedication to the Federation.

the newspaper. Choosing whether—and how—to respond requires a great deal of thought and consideration; often the CRC calls on the national Jewish Council for Public Affairs (JCPA). Depending on the issue, the Anti-Defamation League (ADL) is also another great CRC resource.

With the announcement of the National Socialist Movement (NSM) marching in Chattanooga to coincide with Yom HaShoah, the leadership of the CRC, along with our local rabbis, convened to discuss how to best respond, from both a security perspective (there were two Bat Mitzvot in the community that weekend) and from a community relations perspective. After consultation with the ADL and our local leadership, it was decided that we should have no formal response or comment.

Why? First, we believe that the NSM’s primary mission is to create a stir and garner the attention of the news media. By not doing anything publically, we add no fuel to their fire. Second, we felt that this was not just a Jewish issue, but a humankind issue. The NSM is a hate group, simple as that. We won’t dignify them with a response. Instead of focusing on the hate, however, what we’ve done is to reach out to our friends in the community, churches and clergy included, and ask for them to support our Jewish community and our stance on the NSM. Which they have done. Ironic, isn’t it, that a hate group has helped us grow closer to other faiths and community groups?

Want to get involved? The CRC is always looking for community minded people to serve on this committee. The issues we tackle are of all sizes. Your perspective is important. If you’d like to consider joining this committee, please don’t hesitate to reach out to me. We’d love your engagement!

FEDERATION PROGRAMS

An Invitation, and a Challenge

by Ann Treadwell
 Program Director
 atreadwell@jewishchattanooga.com

People to People, Living Bridge, Get Connected!, Youth Leadership: these are just a few of the programs the Federation helps support through the Jewish Agency for Israel (JAFI) Partnership 2GETHER (P2G). The purpose of P2G is to promote, encourage, and develop cohesion among Jewish communities in Israel and overseas by creating revitalized, ongoing and meaningful engagement between members of these communities--an engagement based on mutual endeavor and shared Jewish identity.

Ok, I know what you're thinking: Lots of words. So let's talk people.

Dorit Zini was like a big sister to me when I was in Israel for the Partnership's 10th anniversary two years ago. Forgiving my almost non-existent Hebrew, Dorit shepherded me throughout Jerusalem, helped me purchase food, and taught me the fine art of negotiating, all with patience and laughter.

But Dorit has a bigger role than sistering me: because Israel doesn't have the same structure for donating to non-profit causes as the United States, she is working to create an entity for Israel-based funding to benefit P2G programs. With $250, and the help of some visiting Consortium members, Dorit and the Israeli volunteers raised their first $2,500 through small events and product sales. It was a huge challenge, one she plans to replicate this coming year.

Aviad Sella is the Southeast Regional Co-Chair of P2G. He opens his amazing home (designed by his architect wife) to Partnership visitors. He is passionate about music, and supported the creation of a music CD by musicians from the Southeast and Israel, to culminate during the 15th anniversary of our partnership. He is adamant that there should be at least one program each year that is proposed and implemented by volunteers.

I sat next to our new regional director, Hana Sirkis-Katz during dinner one night in Charlotte just as we were beginning the steering committee meeting. Hana has been involved with our Consortium for just three months, but has been with JAFI for many years. We talked about our children, the diversity of the southern United States, and our hopes for the Partnership.

I admit – I sometimes struggle with my support of Israel. I don't always agree with the politicians, or the religious leaders, or the military, or the media. But I love the tenacity, the chutzpah and courage of the Israeli people.

I challenge you not to just say you support Israel, but to find a personal connection with the people of Israel. Sign-up to be one of the three teachers from Chattanooga to go to Israel on the Teacher's Exchange this winter. Encourage your 9th – 11th grader to participate in the summer exchange program, or ask our shlichah over for a meal. You have two opportunities to celebrate Yom Ha'atzmaut (Israel Independence Day) this year. On Thursday, May 1 at the Flying Squirrel, Galit Mor, an Israeli singer travelling through the U.S., will sing during Happy Hour (think pomegranate martinis!). And on Sunday, May 4th come to the Jewish Cultural Center where we will honor the fallen soldiers and victims of terrorism, and then celebrate, Israeli-style, with cotton candy, face painting, pita making, Jewpardy (that's Jeopardy with a Jewish twist), family pictures in Israel (using a green screen) and an Israeli dinner complete with brand new menu items. What are you waiting for?

Ori Naftaly Concert March 29, JCC Produced by Young Leadership

FEDERATION PROGRAMS

Community Events

Film Series Screenings: Wednesdays at 7 p.m.

Aftermath

A gothic tale of intrigue in which two brothers uncover a dark secret which forces them to confront the history of their family and hometown.

April 30 at 7:00

Quality Balls: The David Steinberg Story

Film features priceless archival footage of his performances, including The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson.

May 7 at 7:00p.m.

Bethlehem

This film tells the story of the complex relationship between an Israeli Secret Service officer and his teenage Palestinian informant.

May 14 at 7:00

Kidon

Imagines the cloak and dagger puzzle behind the real-life assassination of a Hamas leader.

May 21 @ 7p.m.

Pour Le Femme: May 28 at 7:00 pm

The unexpected arrival of a brother who supposedly perished during WWII upsets the lives of a Jewish tailor and his pretty bride

May 28 @ 7p.m.

Kitchen Tables:

Memories of Growing Up Jewish in Chattanooga

Community Reception May 15 @ 5:30

Exhibit dates May 15-July 18

Well-Being

Middle Eastern (Belly) Dancing

Jillanna Babb-Cheshul of Merry Bellies teaches this drop-in, one-hour, very fun class, Wednesdays at 10:30 a.m. Pay as you go. $5/class. For information, contact 493-0270, ext. 10; federation@jewishchattanooga.com.

Expand Your Mind

Foreign Policy Supper Club

No Foreign Policy Supper Club in May

Noon Nosh with Hadas Peled

Tuesday, May 20 at 12p.m.

TOPIC TBA

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

Please remember to RSVP for Jewish Federation programs

Your RSVP helps us to prepare the right amount of food so that no one is left out and nothing goes to waste.

There are three easy ways to respond:

1. use the RSVP form at www.jewishchattanooga.com
2. call 493-0270, ext. 10
3. email rsvp@jewishchattanooga.com.

Prefer a vegetarian meal? Just let us know in advance.

Thanks for helping us serve you better!

Happenings with Hadas (Israeli Shlichah)

Celebrate Yom HaZikaron and Yom Ha'Atzmaut at the Jewish Cultural Center

We remember & honor Israel's fallen soldiers and victims of terrorism

By their death, they have given us life

Sunday, May 4

4-6:00 p.m. JCC

Fun for all ages!

4:30 Israeli dinner & entertainment

Bedouin Tent & Taboon & Pita making Cotton Candy Face Painting
Dunking Booth Arts & Crafts Family Pictures in Israel Popcorn

5:15 Israel

JEW PARDY

Host
Chuck Rosenthal

Participants

Rabbi Tendler, Steven Sherman
Rabbi Tepper, TBA
Rabbi Perlstein, David Sachsman

יום הזיכרון

4:00 PM Commemoration

4:30 PM Torch Lighting & I-FEST

Join us to celebrate Israel's 66th Independence Day!

יום העצמאות

No cost to attend the Yom HaZikaron Commemoration

Cost for Israeli dinner: $25 per family, $8 per person, children age 7 and under are free. Serving : bourekas, falafel, Israeli salad, hummus, sandwiches.

rsvp@jewishchattanooga.com or 493-0270, ext. 10.

FEDERATION PROGRAMS

Chattanooga State Choir at Noon Nosh

March 18, JCC

Community Dinner and Music Program in Memory of Justine Jacobs

March 31, JCC

Above, l-r: Harvey Jacobs, Margaret Ann Randolph, Ann Ryland, and Jay Craven

Preparing for Kitchen Tables Exhibit

Above: Ann Treadwell, Federation Program Director, and Karen Diamond, Program Committee Chair, collaborate on materials for Kitchen Tables: Memories of Growing Up Jewish in Chattanooga, which opens May 15 at the JCC.

22

Number of trips the chair salesman made to the JCC with chairs for us to try

121

Number of new chairs at the Jewish Cultural Center.

Holy Sit!

FEDERATION SOCIAL SERVICES

Flying Monkeys and the Scary Landscape of Aging

by Amy Boulware
Social Services Director
aboulware@jewishchattanooga.com

- Senior Programming
- Intergenerational Programming
- Family Support
- Community Partnering
- Friendly Visits
- Excursions
- Advocacy

What I've learned, however, is that the things that seem scary and incomprehensible can be faced if we are well prepared. Many of my friends are at the age where they are facing life with aging parents. They aren't prepared and they don't know what to expect, and like me so long ago, they feel the hot tears welling up in their eyes and wish they could run away. They are afraid.

As a geriatric social worker one of the best services I can provide to our community is availability. I can help guide you through the maze of changing dynamics you and your family will face as your parents age. And I can help you take a proactive approach, so that crises are averted. The comfort that comes from talking to someone who knows the ropes is immeasurable. Just think of me as the good witch, there to guide you in the face of the flying monkeys. Together we will face the unknown with courage, heart, and brains.

I remember the day vividly. I was seven years old and my best friend Lynn had invited me to go see The Wizard of Oz. Her grandfather was treating us to a big girl afternoon out. At lunch we sat on the high stools in a tiny burger joint and spent more time spinning around in circles than actually eating. We could hardly contain our excitement about the movie. I didn't really know anything about it; I just knew that, according to Lynn, who had seen it before, it was going to be great.

At the theater Lynn's grandfather bought us popcorn and cokes, we found our seats, and the movie began. When the wicked witch first appeared I was scared but handling it. But when the flying monkeys arrived I came unglued. They scared me to death. I could feel the hot tears welling up in my eyes. I didn't want to cry, but I couldn't stop myself.

Lynn's "Are you ok?" Eyes squeezed took my hand and And though he tried into the movie, there while Lynn stayed inside.

grandfather patted my shoulder. he whispered. shut, I shook my head no. He escorted me out to the lobby. more than once to take me back we sat for the rest of the time,

This was not the first time Lynn had proved herself more grown up than I was. She was the first to ride a bike without training wheels, the first to spend the night at a friend's house for the whole night (without having to call her mom to pick her up early), and the first to bake cookies with only limited supervision. In my seven year old mind she was the essence of cool and I was not. But she wasn't the sort of girl to rub it in my face. About our differences too, she was very mature.

I am confident that each of us can point out that person in our life who we thought was more worldly than we were or possessed the secret to life. The person who somehow knew how to face the frightening and not show the fear.

Thank you to all of the volunteers who helped make cards for the social services team. Hannah Beker, Sandy & Ben Tabakin, Janet & George Sivils and Danise Birchfield. Thank you also to Jackie Rosenfeld for coordinating.

Take Home Chef Alice Goss-Morgan's "Bowls of Love"

Purchase matzo ball soup or chili for just $4 for a one-bowl container or $8 for a two-bowl size.

Call ahead to reserve; we do run out. Contact Ann Treadwell (do not call the kitchen directly), 493-0270, ext. 13; atreadwell@jewishchattanooga.com to get your order packaged and ready to go!

Learn and play with us!
Now enrolling for summer

We welcome children of all faiths, nationalities, and cultures.

5461 N. Terrace Road · Chattanooga, TN 37411
alephbet@jewishchattanooga.com
www.aleph-bet.com

423-893-5486

A program of the Jewish Federation of Greater Chattanooga

Ask about our current enrollment specials!

ALEPH BET CHILDREN'S CENTER

by Vicki Cathcart
Aleph Bet Children's Center Director/
PJ Library Coordinator
alephbet@jewishchattanooga.com

Spring Fling Fun Delivers

Spring Fling was a huge success thanks to the children's performances, dedicated teachers, wonderful volunteers and families, generous supporters, and Jewish Federation board and staff.

You're invited!

Shabbat Visitor Appreciation Day Friday, May 16
Please join us as for this special program when we thank our Shabbat Visitors
Jewish Cultural Center Lobby
9:30 a.m.

Open a world of possibilities
Usborne Book Fair and Origami Owl Sale
Thursday, May 15, 3:00 p.m. – 6:00 p.m.
Book Fair continues:
Friday, May 16, 8:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.

Aleph Bet thanks the following individuals, organizations, and businesses for donating over 80 prizes for the Spring Fling raffle, silent auction, and live auction.

- 4 am Marketing and Connect Marketing
Adam James
- Aleph Bet Children's Center
- Alice Goss-Morgan and the Jewish Federation of Greater Chattanooga
- Ankar's Hoagies (Hwy 58)
- Audrey Eves and Studio 59
- Balance
- B'nai Zion Gift Shop
- Bob and Rita Brook
- Caroline Kaplan
- Charlotte's Web
- Community Pie
- Creative Discovery Museum.
- David Foreman Project
- East Hamilton Dentistry-Dr. Benjamin C. Perry
- EPOC Fitness
- Four Bridges Massage and Bodywork
- Get Built
- Goodhew
- Hadas Peled
- Hamilton Family Dentistry-Dr. Bradley Brewer, D.D.S.
- Irv Ginsburg
- Jason and Vicki Cathcart
- Massage Envy @Hamilton Place
- Mellow Mushroom
- Meryl Stark
- Milk & Honey
- Penny Murray and Mitch Au
- Rabbi Susan Tendler and Hannah Sadoff
- Rachel Privett
- Ralph and Virginia Murray
- Rhiannon Nelson, Origami Owl Designer
- Rib & Loin
- Shallowford Family Dentistry-Dr. Charles Ankar, D.D.S.
- Taco Mamacita
- Tangerinas
- Tennessee Aquarium
- The Kugel Kitchen (Amy Snetman)
- The Lowe Family
- Urban Stack Burger Lounge
- Whitney Blankenbaker

Thank you to the following families for their donations to Aleph Bet:

The Dacoregio Family: stickers, highlighters, pencils
The Parker Family: stickers and pipe cleaners

Wish List: Cotton balls, wireless keyboards (3-4), stickers, Bingo markers, IPAD, gift cards to Aldi, School Box, Target, Wal-Mart, Home Depot, or Lowe's.

Aleph Bet Children's Center, a program of the Jewish Federation of Greater Chattanooga, aims to provide an educational, interactive and developmentally appropriate preschool program that is enriched by Jewish traditions and values and implemented by a trained, dedicated, and nurturing staff.

Aleph Bet is recognized by the State of Tennessee for its commitment to good health

At the Jewish Cultural Center
5461 North Terrace Road 37411
(423) 893-5486
Director: (423) 493-0270, ext. 18
alephbet@jewishchattanooga.com
www.aleph-bet.com

CHATTANOOGA JEWISH CONGREGATIONAL RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Have a "Field Day" With Respect and Love

by Ronni Charyn, Director
ronni.charyn@gmail.com
892-6175

What is Lag B'Omer? Lag B'Omer is the thirty-third day of the Omer, or the counting of the forty-nine days between Pesach and Shavout. It is a holiday which celebrates Jewish education. Rabbi Akiva and his students practiced "Torah L'Shma," learning Torah for the love of learning, by celebrating texts, stories, legends and lore, and expanding and challenging existing thought.

It is traditional on Lag B'Omer to spend time outside, enjoying a "field day" with bonfires and archery. Why? One explanation is that the students of Rabbi Akiva suffered a plague because they did not treat each other morally, and the plague stopped on Lag B'Omer. This holiday is a reminder to treat each other with respect and to "ohev zeh et zeh" : to love one another.

The last day of CJCRS this year will be May 4th. Our ISJL fellow, Adam Wassell from Jackson, Mississippi will be with us for the morning. He has a wonderful program for teachers and students alike. There will be an all school program at 11:30 celebrating the students, madrichim and teachers.

I would like to take this opportunity to say "kol ha kavod" to the four madrichim, our teacher assistants at CJCRS who will be graduating from high school later this month. First to Jessie Fine, who graduated in December and has been a college freshman since January. I am pleased to announce that Jessie will be returning to CJCRS. Ryan Whited, Danielle Simms and Avery Schulman, all graduating seniors, have spent four years as madrichim at the CJCRS; they leave with a plethora of skills to take with them on their next educational journey.

"Todah Rabah" to our rabbis and teachers for a wonderful educational year. I want to especially thank the following teachers who will not be returning in the fall: Joanna Nash, our mishpachot and preK teacher, Jason Hillner, our second grade teacher, and Alex Rose, our madrichim advisor. These three wonderful people were exemplars of Jewish teaching and mentorship for all of our children.

Our CJCRS learning will continue Sunday, August 10th, our first day back, when we will meet at B'nai Zion Synagogue. Please check calendar below for dates when student and adult education classes will begin.

CJCRS CALENDAR
2014/2015 at B'nai Zion
Congregation
(August 3rd & January
4th : in-service days)

Aug. 10 th	Jan. 11 th
Aug. 17 th	Jan. 18 th
Aug. 24 th	Jan. 25 th
Sept. 7 th	Feb. 1 st
Sept. 14 th	Feb. 8 th
Sept. 21 st	Feb. 22 nd
Sept. 28 th	Mar. 1 st
Oct. 19 th	Mar. 8 th
Oct. 26 th	Mar. 15 th
Nov. 2 nd	Mar. 22 nd
Nov. 9 th	April 12 th
Nov. 16 th	April 19 th
Nov. 23 rd	April 26 th
Dec. 7 th	May 3 rd
Dec. 14 th

Fun and Learning at CJCRS

A Day of Remembrance

by Adam Wassell, Education Fellow
Goldring/Woldenberg Institute of Southern Jewish Life
awassell@isjl.org, (601) 362-6357

What is remembrance?

According to the Merriam-Webster dictionary, it is something that is done or made to honor the memory of a person, thing, or event. Each year, Jewish communities all across the world gather together to honor the memory of the six million Jews lost in the Holocaust. We light candles, sing songs, and congregate in large numbers to show support for people we have never met – simply because our spiritual bonds and religious upbringings connect us.

In the years leading up to the Holocaust, the world was in a fragile state. It was recovering from a hard-fought world war that left many countries weak and their citizens vulnerable. In our technological age, we find it difficult to understand how Nazi Germany kept its vicious acts quiet for so long. However, with the populace starving for a leader and/or scared for their lives, it's understandable how Adolf Hitler's manipulation catapulted him to the top of the political tower.

In Jewish tradition we are taught that God created a world of imperfection and that it is up to us to complete His work. Likewise, it is our responsibility to make the world a better place so that the next generation can benefit. In celebrating Holocaust Remembrance Day we are doing just that. We not only pay tribute to the millions who lost their lives, but we gather to send a message to the world that this great tragedy will never happen again. As a response to the Holocaust and creation of the state of Israel, Jewish civic and political groups became wide-spread entities that advocate for change throughout the world. These groups help create a better world not only for Jewish people, but for all of humanity.

A few weeks ago we celebrated Passover where we were asked to place ourselves in the story in order to experience the pain, suffering, and joy of the Israelites. On Holocaust Remembrance Day we do the same: we mourn the loss of family members and friends, while celebrating our continued existence and impact in the world. It is the responsibility of each and every one of us to learn about the Holocaust and to teach others. This year on Holocaust Remembrance Day, let's pledge not to just celebrate with our hearts, but with our words and our actions as well. Let's do our part to educate the world about this horrific incident in history so that events like this can no longer happen.

Jewish Federation®
OF GREATER CHATTANOOGA

Your gift to the Annual Campaign enables the Federation to fund almost half of the operating costs of the CJCRS. Thank you!

FEDERATION SHLICHA

Ayn Lee Eretz Acheret (I Have No Other Country)

by Hadas Peled
Israeli Shlicha (Emissary)
israel@jewishchattanooga.com

On May 6th, Israel will celebrate its 66th Independence Day. Our country has had many challenges: wars, disasters, economic crises, difficult political situations, and disputes over legitimacy. But despite it all, our national pride doesn't die.

When I look at Israel in an objective way, it all makes sense. My time here has helped me put into words my feelings about my country, and I believe it's a feeling I share with many other Israelis: it's a love/hate relationship!

It's not easy to live in Israel. It's tempting to think of moving elsewhere. But in the end, we can't, because Israel is our home. Israelis might complain, criticize and talk about what's wrong, but we are proud to be part of this country. We are patriots. We choose to stay, to stick together, in good and bad times. That's what we know to do.

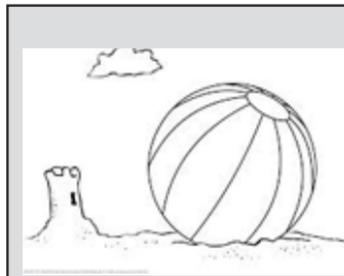

Israel was created from nothing. Without economic potential, natural energy resources, or broad international support it emerged and thrived. It is the only Jewish state in the world and the only democratic state in the Middle East. On Yom Ha'atzmaut we leave the problems aside and look at what's working. We celebrate a country that reaches new heights in science and technology despite the difficulties in the education system. A country that carefully protects democracy, the function of the legal system, human rights, and freedom of the press, despite security risks and threats from terrorism. A country in which most people feel secure, even as chaos surrounds us. A country where there are many young people who continue to believe in it. People like me.

It will be very strange not to be with my family on Yom Ha'atzmaut eve, watching the official torch-lighting ceremony on Mount Herzl, Jerusalem. This year the ceremony, which includes the lighting of twelve torches (one for each of the Tribes of Israel) will be dedicated to the "Era of Women." It's a subject that is very dear to my heart. For the first time, all the people participating in the traditional torch-lighting ceremony will be women. It will mark women's contributions to science, culture, economics, security, education, society, the environment, public service, and more.

After the ceremony is over, many cities all over Israel will hold outdoor performances in city squares featuring leading Israeli singers and fireworks displays. But the most awesome celebration takes place the day after, when every single person in Israel is having dinner with his family "Al ha'esh" (in English it means "on the fire", the Israeli version for barbeque) is a time to enjoy delicious Israeli food and family. (We call Yom Ha'atzmaut national "On The Fire" day.)

At the end of Yom Ha'atzmaut, when the flags come down and the barbeque smoke is disappearing and we all stand in traffic waiting to get home, we feel this extraordinary feeling, which is the shared desire for what's best for our country: to see it prosper. We remember that, in spite of the challenges, there is much to celebrate about Israel, and most importantly, ayn lano erez acheret: we have no other country.

Hadas Peled is available for public speaking for civic groups, schools, churches, and other community organizations. Please contact Hadas at Israel@jewishchattanooga.com or 385-0098

Save The Date
Young
Leadership Beach
Party
Sunday, June 8

YOUNG LEADERSHIP

Tribefest in New Orleans

March 16-18

Hadas Peled, Alison Lebovitz, Rachel Privett, Austin Center, Niki Goff, Jason Shuman, Rebecca Parker, and Jordan Parker had the opportunity to network with other young Jewish adults and to enhance their leadership skills.

Upcoming Events

Thursday, May 1

5:30pm

YL Israeli happy hour

Sunday, May 4

4:00pm

YL \ Hadas event - Israel Memorial Day

Sunday, May 18

All day

YL Event- Aleph Bet playground clean-up

Saturday, May 31

All day

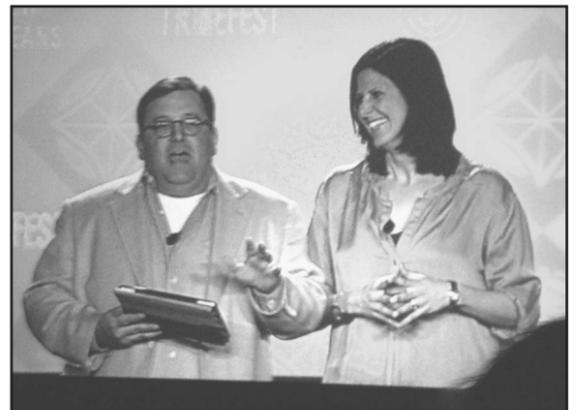

YL Event - Karaoke

Sunday, June 8

11:00am

YL Israeli beach party

See page 3 for photographs from Ori Naftaly Band

Above, Alison Lebovitz Young Leadership Cabinet co-Chair and Rob Lippit were two of the presenters

COMMUNITY VOICES

Anti-Defamation League Meets at Jewish Cultural Center March 27

Left, center: Speaker Deborah M. Lauter, National Division Director of Civil Rights for the Anti Defamation League, with Sanford Winer and Elaine Winer.

Enroll Now for Summer Camps!

PHILANTHROPY CAMP: for rising 1st through rising 6th graders. July 28-Aug. 1, 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Jewish Cultural Center and Chattanooga First Church of the Nazarene. This camp teaches children the value of tikkun olam, or “re-pairing the world.” Games and activities help children explore philanthropy, faith, family, and community. Cost: $120 ($100 for each additional sibling)

CAMP TIKKUN OLAM: for rising 7th through rising 9th graders July 28 through Aug. 1, 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Each day, campers will do hands-on service at a different local, non-profit organization and have fun learning experiences about each of those organizations. On Friday, the group will give a presentation to Philanthropy Camp. Cost: $120/camper ($100 for each additional sibling). Space is limited!

For registration and information about either camp, contact camp@jewishchattanooga.com or contact Ann Treadwell at 493-0270 ext 13. Registration WITH PAYMENT must be received to hold your spot.

Below, striking a pose for Philanthropy Camp 2013

Professional Development Workshop

www.israeled.org

June 22-27, 2014

Atlanta, GA

Spaces are Limited
APPLY TODAY!

www.israeled.org/workshop

CIE/ISMI Professional

Development Workshop on

MODERN ISRAEL

for pre-collegiate educators (5th-12th)

Make ISRAEL the center of your education

A week-long opportunity for educators to deepen their understanding of Israel's history, culture and politics while cultivating skills in classroom application and best practices

THE DETAILS

Faculty:

- Led by Professor Ken Stein
- With presentations by renowned experts Tal Grinfas-David, Rich Walter, Michael Berger, Roni Eshel, Reuven Hazan, Eli Sperling and Uri Bialer

APPLICATION DEADLINE

March 24, 2014

Objectives:

- To provide teachers with core content and innovative teaching strategies
- To enable teachers to impart to their students a comprehensive understanding of Israeli society, history, culture and politics, as well as the role of Israel in Jewish history and Diaspora identities
- To foster a learning community of teachers exchanging information and best practices related to their specific grade levels

For more information, visit our website

www.israeled.org

Cost:

- $150 application fee and personal travel expenses-- all workshop costs, including kosher meals, single-room lodging and materials are covered by a generous grant from our sponsor
- A $250 travel stipend is available

CIE
Center for
Israel Education

Sponsored by The AVI CHAI Foundation and the Emory
Institute for the Study of Modern Israel

WELLS FARGO ADVISORS

Markets fluctuate.
Relationships shouldn't.

We're with you every step of the way.

Warren Dropkin
Senior Vice President - Investment Officer
412 Georgia Avenue, Suite 215
Chattanooga, TN 37403
Tel: 423-265-4228
warren.dropkin@wellsfargoadvisors.com

Investment and Insurance Products: ► NOT FDIC Insured ► NO Bank Guarantee ► MAY Lose Value

Wells Fargo Advisors is the trade name used by two separate registered broker-dealers: Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC and Wells Fargo Advisors Financial Network, LLC, Members SIPC, non bank affiliates of Wells Fargo & Company.
©2010 Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC. All rights reserved. 0512-3417 [74029-v3] A1015

Support Shofar and directory advertisers. They support our community!