In our daily lives, sometimes it can be difficult to remember to "stop and smell the roses." Children tend to have a much better handle on this concept! They have a unique and observant view of the world, while we are often rushing around too fast to fully appreciate it.

For the past few months, the Aleph Bet teachers have been turning over their cameras to their students, to try and get a little glimpse of their day-to-day lives through their eyes. Now we are very excited to present our first ever Aleph Bet art show! In addition to some of the fantastic pictures taken by our two through 5 year old students, we'll also be showing off some very special mixed-media masterpieces. Swing by the Federation between March 27th and April 7th for a glimpse of "How I See My World."

And thank you to everyone who made Cocktails on the Catwalk such a success and so much fun in January!

COMMUNITY NEWS AND EVENTS

Everything You Wanted to Know about Choosing the Films But Didn't Know How to Ask

Eight questions, three film committee members: what it was like being on the selection committee, and personal film highlights (and lowlights).

4. What was your favorite film that was screened and didn't make the cut this year?

Sheila: This is the first year that all of my favorite films were chosen! One film that was not chosen that I liked a lot was called Under the Same Sun, an alternate future depicting a path to peace through a joint economic venture.

Frank: Fannie's Journey. It made me feel the terror of having to make a life or death choice solely by chance. In addition I liked Wunderkinder. It was a Holocaust related movie that showed how a Jewish family saved a German family from the Russians. That was quite unusual. The music was beautiful.

Stephen: Wunderkinder. I thought the joy in the children and the acting by the child characters was excellent and provided a less dark film compared to our usual Holocaust selections.

5. Which of the 6 films we'll be screening is your favorite and why?

Sheila: The one that moved me the most was The Last Mentsch. The one that made me think and was slowly riveting was 1945. I loved Harmonia because of the music and the question of identity.

Frank: Fever at Dawn. I enjoy love stories in difficult settings.

Stephen: The Women's Balcony was my personal favorite. Unique story line, great acting, some irony and comedic parts, and a female empowerment theme mixed with a religious component. Together, these resulted in good entertainment, which is always most compelling for me.

6. How did you get to be on the committee?

Sheila: I just got lucky, and I hope my luck continues. I love this job. Sanford chooses great movies for us to preview and is a good sounding board.

Frank: Many years ago I asked Sanford Winer for a position on the committee when there was a vacancy.

Stephen: I was thrilled to be asked by the Chairman, Sanford Winer, and, although my principle contribution was to be on technical issues, I also enjoyed helping screen and select the films in what has been a great experience.

7. What's the most important movie you've ever fallen asleep during?

Sheila: The Maltese Falcon. I don't really like either Humphrey Bogart or Mary Astor (very uncool of me). In my defense, it was about 2:00 a.m. when I fell asleep.

Frank: I don't recall. It must have been that boring.

Stephen: Dances with Wolves. Too long and terrible acting by Kevin Costner.

8. What's the most important piece of universal learning you hope Series attendees will take away from the Series as a whole?

Sheila: The meaning of identity. Discovering, understanding who you are because of DNA, culture, experience, etc. and sometimes who you can become. The actions we take and the decisions we make because of all this and the effect it has and the consequences that we must always face.

Frank: Movies can have many purposes. Some can explain moments in history. Some can simply entertain with an enlightening story or with comedy. Some can help us see inside ourselves to make us more aware of who we are. Some can make us see inside others to help us understand who they are.

Stephen: People can learn to live together if they take the time and make the effort to understand the other point of view.

The Fabric of Our Lives Exhibit, On View Through March 17

Fabrics cloak us, but they also reveal us. They can define who we are, how we live our lives, and communicate what is important to us. Below are just a few of the pieces currently hanging at the JCC and on view through March 17. Whether a wedding dress, a flag, a uniform, a quilt, dog collars, or some other defining fabric, these pieces will make you think about what you hold dear, and why. There is no cost to view the exhibit. Open during office hours, Monday-Thursday, 9-5 and Friday 9-4.

Purim is March 12! Here's Your Your To-Do List

Listen to the Megillah

To relive the miraculous events of Purim, listen to the reading of the Gantse Megillah (entire book of Esther). And not just once but twice: Saturday night, March 11, and again on Purim day. Tell the children that Purim is the only time when it's a mitzvah to make noise! And don't forget to stamp out Haman's name.

Give to the needy (Matanot La'Evyoni)

Concern for the needy is a year-round responsibility, but on Purim it is a special mitzvah to remember the poor. Give charity to at least two (but preferably more) needy individuals on Purim day.

Send food portions to friends (Mishloach Manot)

On Purim we emphasize the importance of Jewish unity and friendship by sending gifts of food to friends. On Purim day, send a gift of at least two kinds of ready-to-eat foods (e.g., pastry, fruit, beverage) to at least one friend.

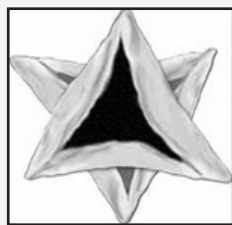

Eat, Drink and Be Merry

Purim should be celebrated with a special festive meal on Purim day, at which family and friends gather together to rejoice in the Purim spirit. It is a mitzvah to drink wine or other inebriating drinks at this meal.

Purim Customs: Masquerades and Hamantashen

It is customary for children to dress up and disguise themselves an allusion to the fact that the miracle of Purim was disguised in natural garments. This is also the significance behind a traditional Purim food, the hamantash—a pastry whose filling is hidden within a three-cornered crust.

HADASSAH NEWS

Hadassah Happenings

Cathryn Cohen
Communications Chair

Birmingham, Alabama was where the action was on February 4th and 5th. That's when Hadassah Southern Region held its most recent board meeting. Following in footsteps long preceding current officers and members, the Chattanooga Chapter was awarded 1st Place for mid-size chapters (those with 100-500 members). New Chapter President (and Past President) Judy Sachsman and past board member and current Regional Secretary, Millie Lander were installed as members of the Honorary Council of Southern Region. This honor is granted to members who have served on the Region Board for 10 years. Recently awarded Volunteer of the Year, Cathryn Cohen was also singled out as Chattanooga Chapter's Woman of the Year at the Board Meeting. Mazel tov to one and all!

February was also a time for great events here in Chattanooga. February 12 saw a lovely Tu B'Shevat seder in celebration of Israel Arbor Day and in support of Youth Aliyah. Present was community shlichah Shiran Amir, who was the guest speaker. Member Hadassah Shulkin led the service and host Sandy Tabakin outdid herself loading up the table with goodies both liquid and chewy!

Hadassah and the Federation co-sponsored "Transforming Darkness into Light," a fabulous presentation with guest speaker Ruth Ebenstein, who talked about surviving breast cancer by finding something for which to be grateful: finding a Muslim-Palestinian friend (whom she now calls sister) in an Israeli/Palestinian support group.

February 20 was our annual dinner at Room In The Inn, a way station for abused women and children finding their way again with jobs and safe homes.

On March 26, the Chapter will meet at 11:00 a.m. at the Heritage Landing Condo Association Clubhouse for a brainstorming session on what activities we'd like to plan. Dana Waxler, Past Chapter President, Region President and current National Hadassah Board member, will host. Pot-luck brunch is planned and members are encouraged to donate to Jewish National Fund (JNF) to help rebuild Israel's life-giving forests, recently gutted by arson and accidental fires. Firefighters from around the world converged on the fire lines to do all they could to keep the losses as limited as possible. A heartfelt todah rabah to all the heroes who stepped up to the plate for us.

Also coming up later in the spring will be our Annual Donor Luncheon, honoring Women Who Do: Hadassah and the Women's Movement, celebrating feats of women in the past, present and hopefully, future! Members, do invite your mothers, grandmothers, daughters, mothers-in-law and other female friends and family. If your invitees can't attend, bring pictures! A booth will be set up where we'll be able to record memories of past feats which will then be used in a special exhibit at the JCC. Donations will go to the Women's Center at Hadassah Hospital. Look for more news in future columns, postcards and on social media.

And now a few words about the power of women who advocate. As stated in a recent edition of our on-line magazine, Hadassah's mission guides our advocacy on the issues important to us as Zionists, Jews, women and Americans. Since our inception, we've been staunch advocates for Israel, world Jewish concerns, public health, and a vast array of social issues including immigration and voting rights. Pride in Hadassah's history drives our passion and power to be Women Who Do. Hadassah's policy statements represent the organization's official stance on a wide variety of issues facing our nation, Israel and the global community. Policy statements are debated and voted on at national meetings by Hadassah's National Board and delegates from our membership.

It is very important to keep in mind that while our policy statements empower us to act on issues, we do not and cannot engage in any direct or indirect support of, or opposition to, political parties and candidates for public office. As a charitable organization classified under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, we must remain nonpartisan so such activities are strictly prohibited. Undertaking any such actions can put our tax-free status in peril.

Have questions about the articles you see in the magazine? Contact the editors at magazine@hadassah.org. Enjoy the read, and feel free to recommend that your women friends join Hadassah as Annual or Life Members to automatically become subscribed to it. Men can also join as Associate Members with the same route to the on-line and printed varieties. Please also keep in mind that commitment to Hadassah can always be shown by purchasing or gifting Life Memberships, Annual Memberships, Associate Memberships, certificates, cards and beautiful jewelry. These purchases are always appreciated. Contact Paula Israel for cards, or Millie Lander for jewelry and certificates. They are always available to answer your questions as well.

Jewish Federation Mission Statement

The Jewish Federation of Greater Chattanooga builds and fosters a strong unified Jewish community and strives to ensure its well-being and continuity locally, in Israel, and throughout the world.

Jewish Cultural Center Statement of Purpose

The Jewish Cultural Center, funded by the Jewish Federation of Greater Chattanooga, is a venue for programs, classes, and exhibits; social services; and a preschool—all rooted in Jewish values. The facility enables the Jewish community to raise its visibility, foster relationships, and strengthen its identity in the Chattanooga area.

Shofar Policies and Procedures

Article/Advertising Deadline

The deadline for Shofar articles, announcements, photos and advertising is the 8th of the preceding month. Submit articles via email to Shofar editor Dana Shavin at dshavin@jewishchattanooga.com. Photos should be e-mailed as high resolution (300 dpi) jpeg files. Hard copies of photos will be returned once they are scanned and the issue has gone to press.

The Shofar calendar

The Federation maintains an online calendar for the community that includes congregational events, social activities, special services and celebrations. Contact Courtney McKenzie at the Federation (493-0270, ext. 10; federation@jewishchattanooga.com) before scheduling your event and/or to add your date to the calendar. View the online calendar by visiting www.jewishchattanooga.com and clicking the calendar tab.

Only Jewish Federation and Federation-sponsored events are listed on the Shofar calendar, which appears on the inside back page of each issue.

Letters to the Editor

It is the policy of The Shofar to encourage letters to the editor. For a letter to be published, it must be signed. The writer's name will be printed. Letters may be edited for length and are selected for publication at the discretion of the editor. Letters should be no more than 200 words.

Mazel Tovs and Condolences

Please contact Dana Shavin (or dshavin@jewishchattanooga.com or 493-0270, ext. 12) with information regarding mazel tovs and condolences. Whenever possible, dates of death will be printed. These announcements are accepted until the 20th of the month.

Articles about upcoming Bar/Bat Mitzvahs, weddings and other special events are featured on the Community Lifecycles page. Text and photo must be provided in accordance with Shofar deadline on the 8th of the month preceding the issue.

Corrections

Please contact Shofar editor Dana Shavin if you find an error in The Shofar. We aim for accuracy.

Jewish Federation®
OF GREATER CHATTANOOGA

THE STRENGTH OF A PEOPLE.
THE POWER OF COMMUNITY.

HAPPENINGS on the HORIZON

CALLING ALL RELIGIOUS SCHOOL, JEW CREW, ALEPH BET, B'NAI ZION, YOUNG JEWISH LEADERSHIP, MIZPAH, CHABAD AND FEDERATION PARTICIPANTS!

PLEASE ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS:

What is YOUR favorite book?

Why?

As we have done for the past 7 years, The Jewish Federation of Greater Chattanooga will present an exhibit in the summer of 2017 designed to involve all the people in our Jewish community. This year's will be called, BY THE BOOK. Wes Hasden is chairing the exhibit assisted by Nikki Hasden and Karen Diamond. Ann Treadwell will be our curator.

Your favorite book can be adult fiction or non-fiction. ..one you read recently... or one you remember from your childhood. It does not have to be a book of Jewish content.

If you do have a copy and would be willing to loan it for the exhibit, bring it to the JCC along with a very short paragraph that explains – emotionally, intellectually, sentimentally - why it is your favorite. If you don't have a copy or perhaps you read it on an electronic device, no problem. Give us a few dollars to purchase a copy and we'll be glad to give it to you when the exhibit is over at the end of July.

We will display the favorite books of Federation members, their children, Jewish thought leaders, celebrities and others. You'll even have the chance to bring gently used children's books to donate to the HomeBound Books project. You will be invited to look through the book box and pick up another one for free in exchange for yours.

Right now, while you are thinking about it, please take a few minutes to write down several sentences about why a certain book has stuck with you. Email your entry by March 15th to: atreadwell@jewishchattanooga.com, nwhasden@comcast.net, or kdiamondgran@comcast.net
